

OZtrail Razorback Hiking Tent

~~$289.95~~ $190.90

Details

Do you ever find that your nose and feet are poking against the slope of most small hiking tents? OZtrail have found a way to optimise space by adding posts to each end of the tent - this raises each end of the tent, preventing a harsh slope and giving you more head and feet space. The single east-west pole design which means less fussing around fixing your shelter up, and more time for resting or taking in the spectacular views - which is always a good thing.

This tent will be a spacious sleep for one, or a cosy one for two. If you're sharing your tent with your partner, the good news is that there are two doors on each side of the Razorback - so you can get up as much as you like without having to climb over a grumpy hiker in the dead of night. If you're known for occasionally over-packing on your trips, you'll have some extra space for storage for your gear in the two side vestibules. If you do get caught in a shower, the fly of the Razorback has a high waterhead rating and heat-taped seams to keep you nice and dry.

Gear lofts are a great way to keep your valuables safe and out of the way - which is why OZtrail have added a detachable one with this tent. If you love to go hiking and bushwalking in balmy summer weather - but you can't stand feeling too restricted - the OZtrail Razorback will give you that extra head and foot height without the added weight.
