Details

For those more rugged outdoor adventures where you need to blend in with your surroundings, the extra wide Back Country Jumbo will have you covered. The extra width this bag provides makes it a comfortable and roomy choice for all kinds of outdoor expeditions.

With a durable outer nylon shell and filled with tech loft extreme fibre that has tiny air pockets that trap warmth and insulate your body when the temperatures start to drop. The drawcord hood allows you to draw the bag in closer to your head for extra warmth, and the dual full-length zips on the Back Country Jumbo allow you to joint two left and right zip sleeping bags together to form one large doona. When nature calls, you won't have to scabble around to locate your phone or light, as the internal security pockets allow you to keep your essentials within arm's reach while you rest.

The Back Country Jumbo comes with an integrated draft tube and collar, and is housed in a heavy duty stuff sack is perfect for protecting your bag from being roughed about in transit. If you're after a roomy place to rest your head at night, with the added tactical benefit of low visibility - the Back Country Jumbo from Caribee is the one that you want.
