

Zempire Glow Guy Rope

$11.99

Details

When you wake up in the middle of the night - disoriented, sluggish and with no night vision whatsoever - the last thing you want to do is trip over a guy rope and pull a hammy.

The Glow Guy Rope from Zempire will help you navigate your way around camp for when you need to investigate a strange noise, make a quick trip to the loo, or even to just rustle up a midnight snack - so you can avoid waking up the rest of your camping crew with your late-night exploits.

If you're camping with lots of other people - this will help distinguish yours from other tents by the light of the moon - so you won't have any run-ins with other bleary-eyed, and presumably very cranky campers.

Low stretch to keep your tent taut
Fluoro green colour increases visibility in low light situations
10m long with 4mm diameter
