

Gerber E-Z Out Rescue Knife

$69.90

Details

A knife is an essential part of any safety kit but if you're heading out bush you'll want to make sure you have the right kind of knife for certain situations. One that fits the bill for safety and performance is the E-Z Rescue Knife from Gerber.

Designed to be used one-handed - the oval cut out on the blade allows you to access it quickly and safely. The E-Z Rescue Knife won't puncture adjacent surfaces when in use - which basically means you can cut through the material without piercing flesh which is vital for rescue situations. The last thing you want is for your knife to slip out of your hand in an important situation, but this knife has a comfortable textured handle for plenty of grip.

The blade will stay safe in its handle until you need to use it next, and the serrated edge will cut through rope or dense fabrics with ease. If you're the kind of outdoorsperson that loves to go deep into the wild - exploring the off the beaten tracks that not many other adventurers like to go - then you'll be prepared for emergencies with the E-Z Rescue from Gerber.
