Details

Introducing a new generation of self-inflating mats, the Exped Megamat 10 LXW provides a sleeping surface that is completely level, right to the edges. These mats are perfect for campers who want luxurious sleeping comfort but are limited on transport space.

A velvety face fabric laminated to hollow cored foam has a minimal packed size, expands to a massive 10cm in height, and provides superior insulation. FlatValve technology incorporates two separate valves for easy inflation, deflation, and adjustment of the mat pressure during use.

Exped is an innovative Swiss brand who stand by the quality of their products, which is why each Exped mat is individually tested for airtight integrity prior to shipment. All mats are designed to withstand 5 times the pressure attained during normal inflation, and they back their products with a 5-year warranty.

Now with the addition of a smart packsack, with a roll-top opening and an adjustable carry strap for easier transport - the Megamat 10 LXW from Exped is the simple choice when it comes to quality and comfort.

Huge 10cm thickness
FlatValve technology for easy inflation, deflation and adjustment
