Details

Do you ever wish you could strap your carry-on luggage onto your back so that you can breeze through a busy street? The Deuter Transit 40 opens up like a suitcase but has the convenience of a backpack making it ideal for the lightweight traveller.

Need to make it on your train ASAP? No worries, the back of the Deuter Transit 40 unzips to reveal a back system so you can move your gear quickly in transit. The Transit 40 also comes with two grab handles and a detachable padded carry strap, so you'll be able to lug your gear around with ease, no matter what situation you're in.

The main compartment has a U-shaped zip so you can open your pack up and have full access to all your stuff while the compression straps keep everything in its right place. Any dirty or wet clothes can be neatly stowed underneath in the separate bottom compartment.

When you're jet-lagged or late for a flight, the last thing you want is to not be able to get your gear from A to B. The Deuter Transit 40 is the pack that will make packing and carrying your stuff so much easier when you're on your overseas adventure.
