Details

If you're having trouble with the stability of your shelter, there's a little too much sag to your shade structure, or you need to minimise the flap on a side wall or wind-break, then you probably need a Poles Apart adjustable c-clip pole.

Made with steel shafts and nylon c-clips to suit 22.2mm tubing, these poles are adjustable and can be fitted between two upright or horizontal poles to increase structural integrity to a tarp, annex, awning or camper trailer.

Available in a range of sizes and adjustable with a simple t-nut lock, these c-clip poles are a must-have for campers with custom camp set-ups consisting of various shelter and wind break structures.
