Details

The perfect size to store snacks when you're on the trail, or on your commute to work - the X-Sea and Go is going to be your new best friend for taking food with you wherever you're going.

Constructed from food grade and heat-resistant silicone, these containers are also easy to clean with quick close lids that are airtight - so there won't be any spillage here! You can reheat your food in these containers as they're microwave safe, and when you're done - you can wash them in the dishwasher with no dramas. This container has handy measurement markers on the side, which makes meal prep that much easier.

The small size can also nest inside the Large size X Seal and Go - so they all work together harmoniously. For a convenient, and easy to use food storage unit that'll translate from the weekend to your desk - the X-Seal and Go containers from Sea to Summit are the way to go.
