Details

With the X Seal and Go range from Sea to Summit, you no longer have to hesitate before tossing a container of leftover spag bol into your work bag, as these containers are collapsible, easy to clean, and airtight to prevent spillage.

Constructed from food grade and heat-resistant silicone, these containers are also easy to clean with quick close lids that are airtight - so there won't be any spillage here! You can reheat your food in these containers as they're microwave safe, and when you're done - you can wash them in the dishwasher with no dramas. This container has handy measurement markers on the size, which makes meal prep that much easier.

For a convenient, and easy to use food storage unit that'll translate from the weekend to your desk - the X-Seal and Go containers from Sea to Summit are ideal.
