Details

The lightweight construction and cushioned ankle of the Keen Terradora Mid WP Boot is what makes it an excellent choice for all-day comfort on the trail

Made from breathable mesh and synthetic, these boots won't weigh you down while you go about your activities. The Terradora has a padded ankle panel for extra support and a contoured which will cradle your foot like a glove. Inside the shoe, there's a breathable mesh lining that has natural odour control, a waterproof membrane to keep your feet dry, plus a dual density PU footbed and low-density EVA midsole for cushioning and support.

And for grip, the non-marking rubber outsole with 4mm lugs will provide stability and grip on different surfaces. For flexibility and lightweight support on the trail, you can depend on the Terradora Mid WP from Keen.
