Details

Now you can take an insulated mug on your lightweight adventures with the Sea to Summit Delta Light Insul mug. Weighing in at well under 100 grams, this clever little sipper mug is made from lightweight glass reinforced polypropylene and features a removable insulated sleeve to keep your fingers cool.

The Insul Mug has been designed with fluted ribbed walls what increase insulation when used with the sleeve, and aid grip when used without.

The silicone lid features a sipping port and can be folded along with the insulating sleeve inside the mug for transport or nesting with other mugs. The STS Delta Light Insul Mug is the perfect solution for lightweight adventurers who don't like their coffee to go cold.
