Details

Spacious, optimally ventilated and ergonomic - the Futura Vario 45+10 SL from Deuter is the ultimate trekking companion.

If you find that other packs are too big for your frame, this pack has a slimline fit meaning the back is shorter so it's ideal for those who need a smaller carry system. This pack features side pockets, a pocket for your valuables, a sternum strap, a pocket for your wet or dirty gear, a detachable rain cover, a separate bottom compartment, and is compatible with a hydration system.

The Futura Vario uses the Aircomfort Sensic Vario System. This is made up of a flexible spring steel frame which helps to transfer your load and a VariSlide system which allows you get the perfect fit for your back. The arched profile frame helps transfer the weight to your hips, the mesh back ventilates, and the flexible hip fins ensure that the weight is comfortably distributed.

When you're on a longer trek, you need a pack that will carry weight comfortably while allowing plenty of airflow to keep you cool - which is what the Futura Vario 45+10 SL is perfect for.

- Flexible steel frame for load transfer
- VariSlide system for adjusting the back length
- Arched frame transports 70% of the load to your hips
- The ergonomic hip fins distribute weight comfortably
- Mesh back system for ventilation
- Slimline fit
- Side pockets
- Separate bottom compartment
- Hydration system compatible
