Details

If you always end up getting caught in the rain on the way home from work, the Safety Rain Shell Cover from Caribee keeps your gear dry and increases your visibility on the road. This pack cover is seam sealed to prevent leaks and is made from bright yellow waterproof fabric. Designed to fit packs that are up to 40L in size, this cover has an elasticised edge and buckle straps to secure it to your pack. The reflective tape increases your visibility while the cycling light loops allow you to attach a light for extra safety on the road. And when you're not using it, just fold it up into the integrated storage pouch for storage until you need it again. Protect your pack from a drizzle while making yourself more noticeable with the Safety Rain Shell Cover from Caribee. High visibility waterproof rain cover Seam-sealed construction Fits most backpacks up to 40L size Waterproof yellow material with reflective tape Folds into an integrated storage pouch Elasticised edge and QR buckle for attachment
