Details

For weekend warriors who like to get outside and explore, house your gear in the streamlined and hydration compatible X-Trek 40 pack from Caribee. The non-bulky shape of the pack means that it won't get caught on branches as you hike, and the multi-compartment design ensures you have plenty of space to store your essentials. You can carry your load in comfort thanks to the Bioform padded harness and utility hip belt, and organise your gear in your pack thanks to the internal zip divider which separates the top and bottom compartments. When you have a long journey planned, just add a separate 2 or 3L reservoir to stay hydrated, and you can lash extra gear you might need to the Molle attachment system on the outside of the pack. If you've got a full day of walking or hiking planned, fill up an X-Trek 40 with gear and you'll be good to go. Slimline design Bioform harness for support with the assistance of a utility hip belt Hydration reservoir compatible Internal zip divider separates the top and bottom compartment Bio-form padded harness system with adjustable utility hip belt Stabiliser system and sternum strap Front zip stash pocket Molle System for lashing gear to your pack
