Details

If you turn into the grinch without a fresh supply of coffee in the morning, then the good news is you don't have to go without your morning espresso even on a lightweight adventure with the Minipresso GR from Wacaco. This intuitive little unit is actually very easy to use. Just add your ground coffee into the filter basket, apply some light pressure to level out the grind, add hot water to the tank, unlock the piston, pump a few strokes to pressurise and therefore extract the espresso. Producing up to 50ml of espresso that fits into the built-in cup, you'll be all set for your morning whether it's out on the trail, at the campsite, or at your worksite. If you're a self-confessed coffee snob, then even you won't turn your nose up at an espresso brewed in the Minipresso GR from Wacaco. Built-in cup and scoop Easy to use 8 bar/116 psi average pressure Compact and lightweight Produces up to 50ml of espresso
