Details

The Basecamp Bc2 from Sea to Summit is the plush, spacious and versatile synthetic sleeping bag for trips where comfort is a priority. This bag has a contoured rectangular shape to give you heaps of room, with a shell made from 30D DWR Nylon, and a 20D nylon lining for lightweight compressibility. For warmth, this bag has layers of looped THERMOLITE insulation, which traps warm air to keep you comfortable. To stop you getting tangled, the lining is attached to the shell, while the webbing loop system allows you to connect your bag to your sleeping mat. You can control the temperature and ventilation of your bag thanks to the three two-way zips on this bag which separates the top and bottom layers so you can use the top as a quilt when the conditions call for it. Whether you like to sleep curled up in a ball or all stretched out, the roomy Basecamp Bc2 from Sea to Summit is the swanky choice for luxurious camping. -1°C comfort rating, -7°C lower limit Three two-way zips for temperature control and separation of the top and bottom layers Top layer can be used as a standalone quilt WaveLoft construction - thick layers of THERMOLITE insulation looped together Baffle construction prevents you getting tangled in the lining Adjustable webbing loop system connects the bag to your sleeping mt Oversized anti-snag zip draft tubes and neck draft tube 30D DWR nylon shell and 20D nylon lining Zip coupling compatible/can zip together
