Details

The Venture Vt1 from Sea to Summit is the synthetic sleeping bag made just for women, that's versatile and adjustable so you can use it in different weather conditions. The Venture features a tapered rectangular shape, which has a wider hip area and narrower shoulder to cater to women and it has an anatomically shaped footbox for extra room. This bag has a synthetic fill which features a WaveLoft™ construction made up of layers of THERMOLITE insulation looped together to trap warm air, plus extra insulation in the footbox so you don't get chilly feet. The shell and lining are made from lightweight nylon that's also easily compressible to keep the weight and packed size down. This sleeping bag also features a free-flow triple zip design which allows you to ventilate on hotter nights as well as stay toasty warm when you need to. With a half zip on the left so you can fold the top third down, and a full-length two-way zip on the right and a separate foot zip so you can use it as a quilt - you'll be all set no matter the conditions. Whether it's a balmy night or a breezier evening - you can adjust the Venture Vt1 from Sea to Summit to the climate. 0°C comfort rating, -6°C lower limit Rectangular shape with narrower shoulders and wider hips for women's specific fit. The full length two-way right-side zip and separate foot zip allows for use as a quilt. Half zip on the left so you can fold it down to free up your arms. Anatomically shaped footbox for extra space. Extra insulation in the footbox. Oversized anti-sag zip draft tubes and neck draft tube. WaveLoft looped THERMOLITE insulation to trap warmth. Lightweight and compressible 30D DWR nylon shell and 20D nylon lining. LH and RH bags zip together.
