Details

With a Suunto Core on your wrist, you can navigate your way on the trail with ease thanks to its simple features and classic design.

The altimeter, barometer, and compass features on this watch allow you to navigate and stay on track on all your outdoor expeditions. This watch has a storm alarm and sunrise/sunset function to help you plan your journey around the conditions and when you're off land the depth metre function is super handy for snorkelling.

The Core All Black has multiple watch, date and time function to help you stay in touch in your day to day life, and the user replaceable battery means you never have to stress about charging.

The combination of functionality and simplicity are what sets the Suunto Core apart from its counterparts.
