Details

In frigid temperatures, keep your mitts warm by wrapping them up in the Polypropylene Gloves from Sherpa. The lightweight gloves are made from polypropylene and are brushed on the inside to make them extra comfy. These gloves also dry quickly if they get wet and won't absorb your sweat. You can wear the Polypropylene Gloves from Sherpa on their own, under your thicker ski gloves or beneath your climber mitts for extra warmth when you're outside in the elements. Light and compact Quick dry and won't absorb sweat Soft brushed interior finish Can be worn alone or underneath other gloves
