Details

When you've lost traction in mud or sand mid-adventure, and you need a helping hand to get your 4WD, ATV and equipment out of strife, the TRED 1100 Recovery Boards will save the day. This all-in-one off-road recovery device is made right here in Australia from high-quality material that can handle intense flex, impact and torque. It comes with two boards that have a shovel feature, aggressive ramp entry teeth, extreme hex grip nodules and wear-resistant properties that provide the traction you need to tackle the tracks with confidence. These boards can even be used to get yourself out of a pickle on a solo adventure and eliminate other riskier recovery options. Your off-road recovery kit isn't complete without the TRED 1100 Recovery Boards from TRED. All-in-one off-road recovery device 4WD, ATV and equipment Designed to handle the intense level of torque, flex, weight and impact Shovel feature, extreme hex grip nodules, aggressive ramp entry teeth and ultimate wear resistant properties Eliminates other more dangerous vehicle recovery options
