Details

When you want a fast and easy to pitch tent that comes with its own ground sheet included, the Maximus 2 from Explore Planet Earth is the affordable option for lighter adventures. The inner is made from 40G B3 high density mesh which provides plenty of air flow, the floor is a 150D nylon oxford with a 4000mm PU water column rating for protection and the fly is constructed from 190T ripstop polyester with 4000mm rated PU coating to shield against the elements. For protection from sodden terrain and debris, this tent comes with its own groundsheet included, and it's simple and quick to pitch as it has a one-piece aluminium alloy 9.5 pole. The interior accessory pockets make it super functional, and the reflective guy ropes also provide better visibility in low light conditions. Great for beginners on a budget, the Maximus 2 Tent from Explore Planet Earth provides shelter for two on your hiking expeditions. 150D floor with 4000mm PU water column rating High density mesh inner for breathability 190T ripstop polyester with 4000mm rated PU coating fly One piece aluminium alloy 9.5 pole Ground sheet included Reflective guy ropes Accessory pockets
