Details

Comfortably carry what you need for your international expedition, with the slim-fitting AViANT Voyager 60+10 SL from Deuter. This bag features a slimline fit, so it has a shorter back length making it more comfortable for those with a smaller frame. The adjustable lid on this pack allows for extra room, the front opening gives you easier access and the bottom compartment has a removable separator to help with load placement. It's got a contact back system with an adjustable back length, and a flexible X frame with ergonomic hip fins to efficiently transfer weight. To protect your pack from rain or damage, just pop on the transport cover, and keep your essentials you want to access easily in the two external pockets. The Voyager also comes with an integrated daypack for sightseeing or day trips, which features a padded laptop cover and an external zipped valuables pocket for convenience. Practical, easy to pack and comfortable, the AViANT Voyager 60+10 SL from Deuter is perfect for globetrotting. Slimline fit with shorter back length Contact back system with spring steel frame & adjustable back length Ergonomic hip fins with zipped valuables pocket Separate bottom compartment Transport and rain cover Front opening for easy access Two external pockets for storage Adjustable lid for extra volume External compression straps Lid pocket with key and zippered compartment Daypack with external zipped valuables pocket and padded 13" laptop compartment
