Details

Roomy enough for everything you need if you fancy a weekend away, the AViANT Duffel 50 from Deuter is also lightweight and practical. This bag is constructed from 600D polyester with a thick PU coating for robust durability. For convenience, it has adjustable straps that allow you to carry it as a backpack or slung over one shoulder. Access your stuff from the large opening on the main compartment and for security, you can add locks to the sliders. There's also an external pocket on the outside which can be zipped up, a large zipped side pocket to keep your more accessible items, as well as padded grab handles for easy carrying. Whether you're heading to the gym, to training or going on a quick trip, the versatile Deuter AViANT Duffel 50 won't let you down. 50L capacity Lightweight design Lockable sliders on main compartment Two padded grab handles Adjustable straps for use as backpack or shoulder bag One large zipped side pocket Large opening to main compartment External zipped valuables pocket
