Details

Flavoursome and delicious. Vegetarians and carnivores alike will love this rich vegetable curry from Go Native.

A mouth-watering dish that isn't freeze-dried or dehydrated, instead, this meal is made the same way you would cook a curry at home. It's then sealed airtight in a process called 'retort packaging' to keep the moisture, flavour and texture within whilst giving it an extended shelf life without refrigeration and making it ideal for camping and hiking.

The Go Native Vegetable Curry is delicious cold or is easily reheated by simply dropping the whole sachet in a pot of boiling water for a couple of minutes, tear off the top and enjoy straight from the packet, or add to some rice or couscous for a complete meal.

Not freeze-dried or dehydrated
Heats in 2 minutes
Does not require refrigeration
Ready to eat straight from the packet
