Details

When your adventurous spirit takes you to cold and wet environments, the Paiju Sleeping Bag 10° from Marmot is the water-resistant yet breathable bag that will keep you warm. This EN tested bag has a comfort temperature limit of -6° and features a shell that's water-resistant yet breathable which also offers protection from the wind and improves the insulation. The 800-fill power down has a Down Defender treatment to give it an extra layer of moisture protection to help retain the loft and is contained in smooth curved baffled to keep it in place. To prevent moisture seeping in through the seams, it's stitched with waterproof thread and has a cinchable draft collar to limit heat loss. Keep any small items or batteries you need to keep warm in the internal stash pocket and has a full-length locking YKK two-way zipper with zip guard slider for access. After the adventure is over, pack it into the included seam-taped roll-top stuff sack for transport. Performing well in year-round conditions, the Paiju Sleeping Bag 10°, this bag will keep you warm and dry in rain or shine. Water-resistant & breathable Pertex Quantum shell The 800-fill power down insulation Down Defender treatment for moisture protection Smooth curved baffles movement of down EN tested with -6° comfort temperature rating Cinchable draft collar for extra warmth Full length locking YKK two-way zipper with zip guard slider Internal stash pocket for storing smaller items Waterproof thread prevents moisture seeping in seams Seam taped roll-top stuff sack for easy access & transport
