Details

It's easy to track how much water you've drunk throughout the day when you keep Camelbak's Carry Cap 1L Insulated Stainless Steel water bottle by your side. Chug away after a workout or have it with you during your lunch break, no matter whether you've filled it with an icy refreshment or a winter warmer for those chilly days, the double-wall vacuum insulation will maintain the temperature you desire. Constructed in durable 18/8 stainless steel with a sweat-proof powder coat finish so you won't get any dewy condensation dripping down the outside and making a mess of your paperwork. Add in the fact that the materials hide no hidden nasties like the 3 BPs, plus how quick and easy it is to clean, and you have yourself a winner! With enough volume so you won't need a refill every 10 minutes, the Carry Cap 1L Insulated Stainless Steel water bottle from Camelbak is the perfect vessel for those on the go. Double-wall vacuum-insulated - cold up to 24 hours / hot up to 10 hours 18/8 Stainless steel with sweat-proof powder coat finish No nasties - BPA, BPS, and BPF free Spill-proof Carry Cap is compatible with Eddy®, Chute® Mag, and Hot Cap vessels Easy to clean - hand wash stainless steel vessel, cap is top-rack dishwasher safe
