Details

Ultralight hiking gear is usually expensive. That isn't the case with the Sea to Summit Ultralight Sleeping Mat. It is one of, if not the lightest sleeping mat on the market and one of the cheapest too.

This lightweight sleeping mat is dot weld constructed to create air-filled cells that function in a similar manner to pocket spring mattresses. Confidently do away with a pump and inflate the mat with your breath, the durable rip-stop fabric is extrusion TPU laminated and has an antimicrobial treatment to resist the growth of mould. Alternatively buy an Air Stream Pump Sack to make inflation a breeze... well, breath.

Are you a hiker, bicycle tourer, or climber that likes to carry a ridiculously small backpack? This is the spring/summer sleeping mat for you.

Ultralight and compact
Integrated Airstream Pumpsack
Multi-function inflate/deflate valve
Individually factory tested
Antimicrobial - OK to inflate with your breath
