

Campfire Protective Leather Gloves

$15.90

Details

Don't get burned again! The Campfire Protective Leather Gloves are accessories you can't afford to be without to protect against heat damage while you are tending open fires and handling hot cookware.

Long lasting durability, functionality and simplicity of design are some of the qualities that place Campfire products at the forefront in outdoor cooking.

These gloves are useful not only for camping but also when dealing with the incinerator at home or the backyard BBQ.

Gloves are heavy duty and made of natural leather. Leather is renowned for its tough, hard-wearing properties and is heat protective. Leather also offers a secure grip that enables you to manipulate hot objects safely. The gloves have an internal lining to provide additional insulation against heat. One size fits all.
