Details

When you need to save on space and weight, the Compression Dry Sack from Sea to Summit is the ideal solution for hiking or adventure travel. This sack is made from Ultra-Sil nylon and the base is made from eVENT® air permeable fabric on the base which allows you to compress the air out and not allow water in. It's also got double stitched and tape sealed seams and reinforced stitching on all of the stress points of this sack to ensure performance. To secure the contents, this sack has a waterproof Hypalon roll-top closure with lid and 4 straps for compressing the volume of your gear.

The interior is white to make it easier to see inside, and it's around half the weight of original eVent Compression Dry Sack so it's perfect for lightweight expeditions. Squash your gear down to up to one-third of its volume and keep it dry with some help from a Compression Dry Sack from Sea to Summit.

Waterproof Hypalon roll-top closure with lid and 4 straps for compression
Air permeable eVent fabric base allows air to be pushed out but water can't get in Lightweight ultra-sil body
Waterproof seams - double stitched and tape sealed
Reinforced stitching on all stress points
10,000mm waterhead rating
White interior makes it easy to see into
